

Room Profile

Executive Suite

In a traditional office, a small device like our Duet would suffice. In an executive suite, however, the size and setup of the room calls for other devices. Executive suites are commonly long and narrow rooms, with a personal desk, meeting table, and even a few chairs or couches. To make sure private meetings are picked up, a device like the Condor is recommended.

In the following rendering, we created an office that utilizes the MT600 Condor Microphone Array. This office is set up as a Zoom Room, perfect for conducting video calls, with a camera above the monitor, and an iPad for control.
